

Jan 11, 1945

To my darling wife:

Well honey, here I am again. Just a few lines today darling, for I don't have much time. I'm still in good health honey, and my morale is still high. The only thing wrong is honey I'm so very lonesome for my little honey. Oh gee dearest, I'm so very much in love with you. If I could only be with you right now honey, we'd be so darn happy. Just me & my little mama alone. We'd be the happiest people in the world. Honey, you said once that you never dreamed that you could be as happy as you are. Well honey when I fell in love with you, I knew your circumstances & how you felt. I told myself that I'll try to make you the happiest girl in the world. And dearest, I've tried everything, & I hope I've succeeded.

Time out dear. Mail just got up to us. 25 letters. 13 from you & 12 from the rest all put together. Your latest is the 20 of Dec. And honey I'll take time out sometime now & read them & answer them tomorrow if I can. So dearest I'll close for today. So darling bye now & remember I love you with all my heart. This won't be a long letter. I'll try to do better tomorrow if I can. Tell Pop hello & pet Mitzi for me darling. Bye darling & sweetheart, I love you so very much.

Your ever loving husband

Jim

P.S. Loads of kisses honey