

Jan. 17, 1945

To the one I love: My darling wife

Well dearest, I'll take a few minutes & let you know I very much I love you & I'm still in good shape. Honey, I'm so very much in love with you. You mean everything in the world to me dearest. If I could only be with you right now. Gee honey, I miss you so. Honey, we've been so happy since we have been married. Just my little honey & I alone was all we needed.

Dear, I haven't received any mail for a couple of days now. But I know that you are all right. I think it is harder on you than it is on me. I know you're all right, but you don't know all the time about me, and I know you worry a lot. That's all o.k. honey, just keep on praying for me & I'll be O.K.

Dear, if I could only tell you what is going on in my mind right now. But you'll soon know what I mean. Honey today, I've gone over everything in my mind that you & I have done. Every minute of our married life honey has been happy & I wouldn't trade it for anything.

Well dearest, I must close now. So dearest darling of mine goodbye & honey I love you with all my heart. Please don't worry too much darling. Take good care of yourself & keep up with the latest news. Tell Pop hello & pet Mitzi for me dear. May God bless you & keep you well & safe till I return home again. Bye darling & I love you so very much.

Your ever loving husband

Jim

P.S. loads of kisses honey